SOPHISTICATED LIVING IN NATURE'S GARDEN

In a pretty village setting with the beauty of nature all around, Alfold Gardens is ideal for those who desire country living, while appreciating the benefits of nearby market towns and excellent transport links to central London, just 40 miles away.

These stunning homes achieve a finely-tuned balance, with the welcome of village life on hand in both Alfold and Alfold Crossways, offering playing fields, a post office, well-loved local pub and a Marks & Spencer food store.

Nearby Guildford is among Surrey's most desirable towns, with elegantly traditional streets lined with independent shops, restaurants and pubs as well as larger stores. Even closer are the cosy coffee shops, vibrant farmers' markets, lively restaurants and bars of Cranleigh.

All this is set on the edge of the spectacular Surrey Hills – an idyll of rolling countryside with spectacular walks and gorgeous views all year round – with the North and South Downs just a little further from home.

There's something for everyone in the countryside here, from wildlife and walks to charming villages and pubs with open fires. Keen walkers relish the Greensands Way – over a hundred miles of trail along the Surrey Hills, through woodland and beautiful countryside all the way to the orchards of Kent – while the North Downs Way passes through a landscape rich in heritage, perfect for peaceful hikes and family adventures. Those seeking a more relaxed approach to nature will appreciate the wonders of Winkworth Arboretum for picnics and lazing in the sun.

AWARD-WINNING HOMES FOR MODERN COUNTRY LIVING

Formed in 2000 John Pardey Architects – jpa – has built a strong reputation for contemporary design excellence and quality, which has been rewarded by international acclaim.

Best known for timeless one-off houses, the studio has grown to enjoy working on a diverse range of building types that include mixed-use schemes and unique large scale residential projects. Based on England's south coast, the studio has grown and diversified its design portfolio to include projects in Europe and the Americas.

In each individual home, the jpa creative team aims to achieve a timeless quality and a delight in the ordinary – the joy of simple natural materials enriched by a precision or juxtaposition. This encompasses the idea of uniting inside and outside spaces, to create a natural place to live that celebrates view and the changing weather, while ensuring an energy-efficient and easily maintained home.

National recognition for jpa has included 54 awards, including eight RIBA Awards; two Housing Design Awards in 2020; along with the Gold Medal for Architecture in Wales in 2013. A year later, jpa was cited as one of Britain's top six residential design practices in the Sunday Times.

“We enjoy exploiting the things that nature provides for free – views, the sun, shelter from the wind ... natural materials that give buildings a timeless feel.”
